MESSAGE FROM PASTOR KORY

A new year has arrived with great anticipation. It comes with new pages, new plans, and new possibilities. Yet one truth anchors us as we step forward: new year, same God. In Hebrews 13:8, we discover that "Jesus Christ is the same yesterday, today, and forevermore." As we approach the future with an attitude of faith, we abide as followers of Christ in His Word, His Will, and His Way.

This winter at Westlane, we are walking through The Life of David, a story marked by patience, purpose, and powerful formation. God shapes ordinary people through extraordinary processes to bring to pass His revolutionary purposes and promises. David's journey reminds us that God develops His people long before He displays them. The palace was preceded by the pasture. The crown was preceded by the cave. In the quiet and the concealed, God was shaping a heart fully devoted to Him.

David teaches us that faith is formed over time. It is fashioned in the unseen struggles of our walk with God, strengthened in uncertain seasons of waiting on God, and deepened through both victories and valleys. God was never absent in David's delays, detours, or disappointments. He is not absent in ours either. The same God who guided David step by step is guiding us still today, steady, sovereign, and sure.

As we begin this year, we are invited to believe today while trusting that the best is yet to come. We live with confidence in the present because we have hope for the future. God is not finished. He is still shaping, still calling, still working all things together for His glory and our good.

Be encouraged, Westlane. God desires to do great things in you and through you, not by rushing the process but by refining the heart. May this new year be marked by deeper trust, stronger faith, and a greater sense of hope, as we follow the same faithful God into all that He has in store.

New year. Same God. Remember the promise; the best is yet to come!

In the Love of Christ,
